Հարգելի՛ դիմորդ

Խորհուրդ ենք տալիս առաջադրանքները կատարել ըստ հերթականության: Ուշադիր կարդացե՛ք յուրաքանչյուր առաջադրանքի պահանջը և պատասխանների առաջարկվող տարբերակները: Եթե Ձեզ չի հաջողվում որևէ առաջադրանքի անմիջապես պատասխանել, ժամանակը խնայելու նպատակով կարող եք այն բաց թողնել և դրան անդրադառնալ ավելի ուշ:

Ձեր առջև դրված թեստ-գրքույկի էջերի դատարկ մասերը ազատորեն կարող եք օգտագործել սևագրության համար: Թեստ-գրքույկը չի ստուգվում: Ստուգվում է միայն պատասխանների ձևաթուղթը:

Առաջադրանքները կատարելուց հետո չմոռանաք պատասխանները ուշադիր և խնամքով նշել պատասխանների ձևաթղթում: Պատասխանների ձևաթղթի ճիշտ լրացումից է կախված Ձեր քննական միավորի ճշտությունը:

Ցանկանում ենք հաջողություն:

1. Alpha Centauri is a triple-star system. One of the three stars in Alpha
2. Centauri is Proxima Centauri, which is the nearest star to the Earth, except, of
3. course, for the Sun. The name “Proxima” comes from a Latin word which
4. means “close”.
5. Even though Proxima Centauri is the closest star to the Earth outside of our
6. solar system, it is not really close. Interstellar distances are so large that
7. they are almost impossible to imagine. A person traveling in a modern
8. spacecraft would not arrive at Proxima Centauri within this lifetime, or the
9. next, or even ten lifetimes because the distance is so great. Light travels at a
10. speed of 186000 miles per second, and it still takes light more than four
11. years to travel from Proxima Centauri to the Earth.
12. Alpha Centauri can be easily seen in the night sky without a telescope
13. from certain parts of the Earth. It is the third brightest star in the sky, out of
14. approximately 6000 visible stars. It cannot be seen from most parts of the
15. United States because most of the United States is too far north; however, it
16. can be seen from the southern parts of the southernmost states.

1 The main subject of the text is

- a) modern space travel
- b) the closest stars to the Earth
- c) interstellar distances
- d) the speed of light

2 According to the text, which of the following is NOT true?

- a) Proxima Centauri is the closest star to the Earth.
- b) Alpha Centauri is composed of three stars.
- c) It is possible to see Alpha Centauri from the Earth.
- d) Proxima Centauri is one of the stars in Alpha Centauri.

3 The expression interstellar distances in line 6 is

- a) distances from the Sun to each of the planets, including the Earth
- b) distances between stars
- c) distances between the Earth and various stars
- d) distances measured by the speed of light

4 The word comes in line 3 could best be replaced by

- a) visits
- b) travels
- c) is derived
- d) is directed

5

It can be inferred from the text that if a person is left in one of today's spacecrafts, he or she would arrive at Alpha Centauri

- a) within this lifetime
- b) after more than ten lifetimes
- c) within ten lifetimes
- d) within the next lifetime

Traditions are plentiful during weddings. They symbolize the happiness, luck and joy needed for the newlyweds. When planning a wedding, try to add a few worldly traditions that will _____ a memorable experience for all.

Most people have heard of the Victorian traditions, such as a bride wearing something old, something new, something borrowed, something blue, and a sixpence in her shoe.

The old should come from a happily married woman and it _____ a lucky transfer of happiness. The new is usually the wedding gown _____ a new beginning. The borrowed should be an object of gold to guarantee wealth and fortune. The blue is symbolic of the heaven and _____ love. And the sixpence is to be worn in the heel of the right shoe to provide future wealth and prosperity.

Gloves, a symbol of modesty and romance, are also an accessory to the groom’s or bride’s clothes. Without the letter “g”, a _____ of gloves becomes loves.

Line number

1. Esperanto is what is called a planned, or artificial, language. It was
2. created more than a century ago by Polish eye doctor Ludwik Lazar
3. Zamenhof. Zamenhof believed that a common language would help to
4. alleviate some of the misunderstandings among cultures.
5. In Zamenhof's first attempt at a universal language, he tried to create a
6. language that was as uncomplicated as possible. This first language included
7. words such as ab, ac, ba, eb, be, and ce. This did not result in a workable
8. language in that these monosyllabic words, though short, were not easy to
9. understand or to retain.
10. Next, Zamenhof tried a different way of constructing a simplified
11. language. He made the words in his language sound like words that people
12. already knew, but he simplified the grammar tremendously. One example of
13. how he simplified the language can be seen in the suffixes: all nouns in this
14. language end in o, as in the noun amiiko, which means "friend", and all
15. adjectives end in -a, as in the adjective bela, which means "pretty". Another
16. example of the simplified language can be seen in the prefix mal-, which
17. makes a word opposite in meaning; the word malamiko therefore means
18. "enemy," and the word malbela therefore means "ugly" in Zamenhof's
19. language.
20. In 1887, Zamenhof wrote a description of this language and published
21. it. He used a penname, Dr. Esperanto, when signing the book. He selected the
22. name Esperanto because this word means "a person who hopes" in his
23. language. Esperanto clubs began popping up throughout Europe, and by
24. 1905 Esperanto had spread from Europe to America and Asia.
25. In 1905, the First World Congress of Esperanto took place in France, with
26. approximately 700 attendees from 20 different countries. Congresses were
27. held annually for nine years, and 4,000 attendees were registered for the
28. Tenth World Esperanto Congress scheduled for 1914, when World War I
29. erupted and forced its cancellation.
30. Esperanto has had its ups and downs in the period since World War I.
31. Today, years after it was introduced, it is estimated that perhaps a quarter of
32. million people are fluent in it.
33. Current advocates would like to see its use grow considerably and are
34. taking steps to try to make this happen.

51

According to the text what happened to the Tenth World Esperanto Congress?

- a) It was scheduled for 1915.
- b) It had attendees from 20 countries.

Fit the missing sentences into the gaps of the following texts. (two of the given sentences are odd)

Lewis Carroll was the pseudonym of the Reverend Charles Lutwidge Dodgson, an enigmatic author, illustrator, logician, renowned photographer, letter writer, diarist, and for the majority of his adult life, mathematics lecturer at Christ Church, Oxford University. To illustrate this author's advanced sense of logic, mystery, and creativity, Dodgson constructed his pen name as a puzzle in itself.

_____. Charles Lutwidge Dodgson was born in 1832 in Cheshire, England, a village about twenty miles from Liverpool. One of eleven children living on a secluded farm, young Dodgson spent much of his young life seeking isolation in the landscapes surrounding his home. _____. Most creatures in Alice's world are constructions of a young boy's observations on the farm: white rabbits, caterpillars, mushrooms, field mice, gardens of flowers, and other barnyard and parsonage animals.

_____. His two most famous works, however, are Alice's Adventures in Wonderland (1865) and Through the Looking-Glass (1872). _____. Although these pieces of literature were originally written to entertain the minds of young children, they are full of themes and allusions to Victorian society.

Along with personal experiences on his childhood farm, the story of Alice is a direct result of Dodgson's work as a tutor and photographer during his time at Christ Church. _____. They took many rowing trips down the river and Dodgson would collect his thoughts in a diary. Aside from these interactions, the artist also took many posed photographs of Liddell's family, specifically his young children, one of which was seven-year-old Alice.

73

- 1) These roaming "adventures" are reflected in the characters and images of both Alice's Adventures in Wonderland and Through the Looking-Glass
- 2) He spent many evenings with the new dean of the school, Harry Liddell, and the dean's family.
- 3) As a writer, Charles Dodgson published nearly three hundred works on a variety of topics, including children's stories and parodies.
- 4) It was on one such expedition, on 4 July 1862, that Dodgson invented the outline of the story.
- 5) The overwhelming commercial success of the first Alice book changed Dodgson's life in many ways.
- 6) The pseudonym Lewis Carroll, was created by Latinizing his two given names.
- 7) Both are stories written about the childhood adventures of young Alice.
